Mr. Holly,

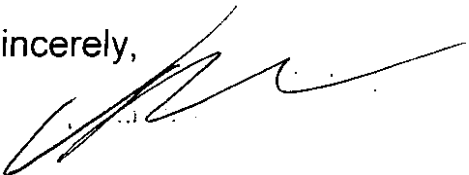

This letter is a copy of an email that I sent to the RAD a couple of days ago. I am a candidate for the U.S. Senate for Alabama. I had unsuccessfully sought ballot access and recently decided against a "write-in" effort.

Although I had not reached the $5000 threshold, I filed Forms 1 and 2 in concern that I might reach it. However, it is now clear that I will not reach that threshold.

Yesterday, I mailed an amended Form 1 Statement of Organization (as you requested) and I filed the Q-3 report which shows that I was well under the $5000 threshold.

I am now absolutely certain that I will not reach the $5000 threshold. So, my question is should I continue to file reports (the pre-election and the post-election and then the termination); or should I withdraw my initial filing.

Sincerely,

Victor Sanchez Williams/Candidate and Treasurer
